

The Institute of Oriental Philosophy-UK

Invites you to a

Weekend of exploration

At Taplow Court, Taplow, Nr Maidenhead, Berkshire SL6 0ER

Buddha Mind - Creative Mind?

Fri 12 June. Sat 13 June. Sun 14 June. 2009

THE WEEKEND WILL EXPLORE THE LINKS AND RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN THE CREATIVE LIFE, ARTISTIC EXPRESSION, AND BUDDHIST THOUGHT AND PRACTICE

The programme includes speakers, workshops, demonstrations, dialogues with artists, live performances, and an exhibition covering a range of artistic practices.

Areas to be explored include: Artists who draw on Buddhism in their creative practice; Buddhism influencing Art – Art influencing Buddhism; Buddhism and the Creative Life; Does Buddhism offer anything unique to the creative process?; Buddhist art through the ages.

This event is for anyone with an interest in Buddhism and creativity, artists and performers and all interested in the creative life.

Call to Artists & Performers – If you wish to be considered to exhibit work or perform during the weekend (on a voluntary basis) please contact IOP-UK now for details.

Costs

Whole conference incl. vegetarian meals £110 / part-only: Fri eve £15. Sat £45. Sun £40. Sat buffet/performances £15: Early Bird offer £95 whole conference before April 30. Limited accommodation on-site available £30 per night.

Venue

Taplow Court is a beautiful Victorian mansion in Taplow village, set in 85 acres of grounds and overlooking the River Thames, Nr Maidenhead, Berkshire.

Contact: Jamie Cresswell - Tel: 01628 591213

Email: jc@iopec.org

www.iopuk.org

Supported by the Network of Buddhist Organisations-UK